AD FONTES ACADEMY

2016 - 2017 SCHOOL PROFILE

Overview

Ad Fontes Academy (AFA) is a coed, independent, liberal arts, K-12 day school founded in 1996 upon classical Christian educational methods. Ad Fontes is accredited by the Association of Classical and Christian Schools (ACCS) which is a member of the Virginia Council of Private Education (VCPE).

Admissions Criteria

Selective admission is based on academic records, third-party academic testing, and a personal interview. Ad Fontes Academy does not discriminate on the basis of gender, race, national or ethnic origin in the admission of students, financial aid or employment policies, or in any of its educational programs.

Faculty

Fourteen faculty teach in the Upper School with 50% holding academic degrees at the Masters level or above. All teachers must model oral and academic excellence and demonstrate a passion for their subjects and for teaching students. The student/faculty ratio is 9:1.

Enrollment

The total enrollment for the 2016- 2017 school year is 210, Kindergarten through Twelfth Grade. The Upper School enrollment is 79 students, of whom 10 are seniors.

House system

All Upper School students participate in one of four houses (Athens, Atlantis, Ilium, Rome) to establish strong, supportive relationships and camaraderie between the grade levels, to develop student leadership skills, and to shape school culture. House Heads are Juniors or Seniors nominated and selected by students to work closely with school leadership to lead the Upper School.

Activities include weekly house meetings, house competitions, service projects, and social and fundraising events.

High School Curriculum

The Ad Fontes Academy curriculum is a rigorous college preparatory, liberal arts and sciences program. All courses are taught at the honors or above level. AFA students are equipped to articulate clearly and persuasively the knowledge they acquire across the curriculum.

Ad Fontes students engage great books and original source documents in classrooms of active discussion and debate, using the Harkness Method, that require skills in research, close reading, critical writing and historical analysis. The Ad Fontes humanities sequence consists of a chronological study of western literature and history from antiquity to modern Europe and America.

Major texts include The Epic of Gilgamesh, Homer's Iliad and Odyssey, Sophocles Oedipus Rex and Antigone, Virgil's Aeneid, Ovid's Metamorphoses, Augustine's Confessions, Beowulf, Dante's Inferno, Chaucer's The Canterbury Tales, a Kempis The Imitation of Christ, Machiavelli's The Prince, More's Utopia, multiple Shakespeare plays, John Donne poetry, Milton's Paradise Lost, Romantic poetry, Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress, Swift's Gulliver's Travels, Shelly's Frankenstein, Conrad's Heart of Darkness, and The Great Gatsby.

Ad Fontes provides students with rigorous preparation in critical thinking, in mathematics and in the sciences. As a foundation, all students complete a full-year course in Logic. They are then equipped for advanced math and science study by virtue of courses that emphasize mastery of concepts and skills in addition to content.

Ad Fontes students study Latin to strengthen their language, learning and thinking skills through a rigorous grammar program that provides a strong foundation for reading Latin literature and for further language study.

Junior and Senior Thesis

In every field and endeavor, the most effective communicators rise to leadership. Thus, we emphasize writing and speaking throughout the Ad Fontes experience, including four years in high school. In Junior year, students study the five canons of Rhetoric and the six parts of discourse, developing research and formal writing skills, and delivering multiple speeches. The capstone of an AFA education is the Senior Thesis, wherein each senior writes an original, relevant, and debatable 15-20 page thesis and presents an oral defense, consisting of a 15 minute oral presentation and 20 minute defense before a faculty and topic expert panel.

Sample of Recent Senior Thesis Topics
